INFORMATION RELATED TO THE CANDIDACY OF LAURA CORUZZI TO SERVE AS DIRECTOR PRESENTED TO THE COMBINED GENERAL MEETING OF JUNE 25, 2018

SURNAME AND NAME: Laura CORUZZI

AGE: 65

PROFESSIONAL REFERENCES AND ACTIVITIES IN OTHER COMPANIES OVER THE PAST FIVE YEARS:

Laura A. Coruzzi is the Senior Vice President of Intellectual Property at REGENXBIO. Prior to joining REGENXBIO, Dr. Coruzzi was a member of the Intellectual Property practice at Jones Day, an international legal practice. Before joining Jones Day, Ms. Coruzzi was one of the first members of Pennie & Edmonds' biotechnology group founded by S. Leslie Misrock, affectionately known as the "father of biotechnology patent law." Laura Coruzzi represented biotechnology and pharmaceutical clients for nearly 30 years, focusing on strategic planning and management of patent portfolios designed to protect emerging new technologies as well as mature biological and pharmaceutical diagnostics and therapeutics. She counsels clients on portfolio evaluation, due diligence investigations, patent prosecution and interferences, European oppositions and licensing in a variety of disciplines, including genetic engineering, virology, and biologic small molecule therapeutics. Her practice also encompasses patent applications, litigation and appeals before the USPTO Board of Appeals, the Federal Circuit and the Supreme Court of the United States, where she and her team won reversal of an $18 million jury verdict in 2000 for Cadus Pharmaceutical Corporation in a case involving cell-based assays for drug screening. More recently, she was a member of the team representing Myriad in Association for Molecular Pathology v. Myriad Genetics (U.S. Supreme Court 2013).

Laura Coruzzi earned her Ph.D. in Biology from Fordham University, New York and completed a post-doctoral fellowship at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine, New York, before entering the practice of law.
